

AN EARLY PIONEER PASSES AWAY

H. C. Ladd, one of the early pioneers of Dunn county, Wisconsin, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. H. Mills, in Chicago, Sunday, June 3, at the age of 82 years.

Mr. Ladd was born in Hartford, Conn., Sept. 30, 1830. He came to Meromonic from Hume, Allegany county, N. Y., a few days before Thanksgiving in 1872. For nearly forty years his interests were in Menomonie with the exception of a few years which he spent on the Chain-o-lakes in what is now Rusk county.

For a number of years Mr. Ladd as a painting contractor, was engaged in the decoration of the buildings of the city. He retired from active work at the age of 71 years. He then spent a few years on the lakes where he, together with Messrs. Lucas and Landon had a cottage. He was a lover of nature and spent many a day in fishing. He spent a number of winters with his daughter in Chicago and left Menomonie last Nov. to make his home there.

Deceased was a prominent Mason, being a member of the order for nearly fifty years. He joined in New York in 1863 and was a member of both the Blue lodge and the chapter.

He was a remarkably well preserved man, of rugged frame and great vitality. He always made friends wherever he was. He belonged to that class of grand old settlers who suffered many hardships to build up the country. He is survived by his daughters, Mrs. L. D. Hughes of this city, and Mrs. W. H. Mills of Chicago, and son William, who lives in Alabama besides a granddaughter, Mrs. Blanche Cohen of St. Paul and a grandson, Stuart Hoag of Wheeler, all of whom attended the funeral except the son. The services were held at the Memorial Tuesday at 2 p. m., Rev. C. F. Niles officiating. The grandson, Volney Mills, impressively sang Beautiful Isle of Somewhere.

The masons attended in a body and took charge of the services at the grave where they held the beautiful rites of the order.—Memomonie paper

RULES AND REGULATIONS OF FILLMORE WATER CO.

The following rules and regulations of the Fillmore Water Company are a part of the contract with every person who takes the water, and every such person by taking the water agrees to be bound thereby.

1 All persons desiring to have water introduced upon premises owned or occupied by them, or desiring an additional quantity, or to make any change in the supply, shall make written application to the Superintendent, specifying the premises to be supplied, or change to be made, and stating fully and truly all the purposes for which it is to be used. Blanks will be furnished by the company.

2 In order to shut the water off in case of a leak or otherwise, persons taking water must put into every service pipe at the curb a stop cock, which must be approved by the company, and be always under its control, and provided with a suitable box and cover, which must be kept clean so that the stop cock can be operated at all times.

3 Persons taking water must keep their own water pipes and all fixtures connected therewith in good repair, and protected from frost at their own expense, and shall prevent all unnecessary waste of water. They must provide a stop and waste cock, to be properly located inside the building, and have the pipes so arranged that the water can be drawn from them wherever and whenever there is danger of its freezing. Service pipes must be laid at least four feet below the natural surface of the ground.

4 Street sprinklers or washers must not be used to sprinkle beyond the premises of those paying for them and must not be permitted to run to waste or leak; or be converted into jets; or for filling cisterns; or used for washing down the collections of the gutters upon neighboring premises, or used to flood the streets—but merely to sprinkle them, and no private hydrant will be permitted to run except when in actual use.

5 When two or more parties or families are supplied with water from the same service pipe, if either of said parties fail to pay the water rent when due, or to comply with the rules of the company, the company

MINISTER IN JAIL ACCUSED OF FORGERY

The issuance of a warrant charging Rev. Alton H. Cowles with forgery and the commitment to jail of his chief witness, Frank W. Hall, was the startling windup in Livingston county Supreme Court of Cowles' prosecution, in behalf of the Law and Order League which he represents, of the action of "The People vs. Ten Bottles of Whisky," John McMahon, a Mt. Morris hotel man answering. At the conclusion of the trial, the jury brought in a verdict of no cause of action.

Hall, together with another alleged detective, claimed to have bought whisky at the McMahon Hotel at a time some months ago when Mt. Morris was still "dry." In this part of his story he was not effectually tripped up. When asked, however, if he had tampered with the papers in the McMahon case on file in the Livingston county clerk's office he swore he had not; and a number of credible witnesses, including attaches of the clerk's office, then took the stand and swore, in effect, that they had been altered after filing. Justice Clark thereupon declared that the perjury of the witness Hall on the stand was so undeniable that he felt it his duty to commit him to the Livingston county jail for perjury before the man could escape his jurisdiction, which was accordingly done.

Within a few hours after his arrest Hall confessed to the authorities that he had altered the records in the county clerk's office but said that personally he had supposed he was merely correcting some clerical errors, and that the transaction was entirely under the direction of, and paid for by, the Rev. Cowles of Buffalo. When this was learned search was made for the minister. A warrant was hurriedly sworn out for his arrest on a charge of second degree forgery and the Buffalo police department was notified by wire to place the Law and Order League's representative under arrest.

Rev. Cowles was arrested in Buffalo and was committed to the Livingston county jail to await the action of the next grand jury.

Later he was admitted to bail in the sum of $2,000.

Glee Club Picnic

From our Dutch Hill Correspondent.

The Progressive Glee Club met for a picnic at Smith's grove last Thursday. Members and friends to the number of sixty were present and a fine time was enjoyed by all. After a social visit, a sumptuous dinner, a short musical program, a cracker contest and a couple of poems, the boys had a little ball game to finish the day. The following was written for the day and is printed by request:

Chronicles of the Progressive Glee Club

In the autumn of nineteen eleven

Some friends of a musical turn,
Assembled one evening near seven,
Some new songs and hymns there to learn.

They sang with true voices and lusty,
They sang with a hearty good will;
And yet they felt somewhat discouraged,

As if something were needed more still.

They had spent a right pleasant evening,
And at last one quite aptly did

speak;
It would make the winter more pleasant,

If we'd meet one evening each week.

This seemed to meet the approval
Of those who were present that night.

They elected a man to collect small dues,
And a president to keep everything

right.
I would like to tell all of the members

If to me you kindly would hark,
But Ingersoll won't rhyme with Foster

And Talbot don't rhyme with Clark
Now ponder and ponder it over

And you'll never till gray are your locks,
Do much but ponder forever,

If McMurtry e'er rhyme with Fox.
Oh yes, there are a few more

For you'd think this naught but a myth,
If you heard not those so familiar

As Townner, Cronk and Smith.
And Arnold and Sanders and others,

Who now my memory slips;
Tho' all were made right welcome

Some couldn't make all the trips,
Our places of meeting were scattered

O'er valleys and hilltops quite steep
And oft some with grippe would be tussling

The Fourth

The Fourth was very quietly observed in Fillmore by those who staid at home, fire crackers being about the noisiest partakers in the national celebration. The M.E. Sunday School held a picnic in Minard's woods. Many went to Houghton to hear the lecture there; Mt. Moris, Silver Lake and several other places were attractions for others of our citizens.

In This Age of Science

"Come over and play with my little boy, Sonnie," called the pleasant faced new neighbor to the solemn faced urchin on the fence between the two lots.

"Is your little boy sick of anything?" came the child's earnest question.

"No, indeed, sonny. Why?"
" 'Cause I've had my tonsils taken out an' my adenoids removed an' my appendix cut out an' I've been vaccinated an' serumized for typhoid an' spinal meningitis, an' I've had anti-toxin injected, an' I do hope I won't have to have anything done to me this year, so's for a while I can have a bit o' fun!"
